Bad Moms

Amy Mitchell (Mila Kunis) is a mother of two who puts her family first, but her childish husband, demanding kids and idiot of a boss are finally getting to her. One morning as she's making breakfast, she realizes the dog is sick. Now she has to take the dog to the vet in addition to dropping the kids off at school before getting to her high pressure marketing job.

When PTA Queen Bee Gwendolyn (Christina Applegate) at her kids' school tells her there's an emergency PTA meeting, Amy doesn't feel she can blow it off, so she makes sure to leave work early enough to make it. After an incredibly stressful day, Amy snaps during the meeting. She teams up with two other misfit moms (Kathryn Hahn, Kristen Bell) on a quest to free themselves from conventional responsibilities. They go on a well-deserved binge of freedom, fun and self-indulgence.

Absolutely fabulous

Edina (Jennifer Saunders) and Patsy (Joanna Lumley) make the transition to the big screen after six successful seasons on television with the British series Absolutely Fabulous.

The hard-partying women are suddenly forced to change their lavish ways when Edina's PR agency runs out of money and interest. Hoping to snag a new client, the witty pair attend a ritzy fashion launch event for designer Huki Muki. However, they get more than they bargained for when Edina is accused of pushing model Kate Moss into the River Thames and Patsy loses her job on account of being a close friend of Edina's.

In an effort to escape reproach for the Kate Moss debacle -- and marry their way into new sums of money -- they take off for the French Riviera with champagne, expensive clothes and cash on their minds. But it isn't long before their wild antics catch up with them and they're forced to face reality...at least for a moment or two.

Star Trek: Beyond

Scotty (Simon Pegg) and Bones (Karl Urban) are stranded on Starbase Earhart, a remote outpost just outside of Federation Space, after the Enterprise is destroyed by an unknown force of ruthless aliens.

Halfway into their five year mission, they must now face off against a new and unexpected villain that they quickly learn has a storied and powerful hatred of the Federation and all that it stands for.

The Enterprise's mission was to explore strange new worlds and seek out new life and new civilizations. In Star Trek: Beyond our heroes find themselves on a strange planet where members of the crew have been taken hostage by a ruthless villain named Krall (Idris Elba). It's up to Captain Kirk (Chris Pine) to rescue his crew and prove that the Federation's belief in unity is not a weakness, but a strength.

Family Fang

Annie (Nicole Kidman) and Baxter (Jason Bateman) have spent most of their lives trying to stay far away from their parents, Caleb (Christopher Walken) and Camille Fang (Maryann Plunkett). Over the years, the elder Mr. and Mrs. Fang have been involved in controversial work - everything from fake bank robberies to staged incidents of harassment.

After Baxter suffers a head injury, he involuntarily ends up in the care of his parents. When Annie comes to rescue him and tells them she and Baxter want no part of their upcoming "art piece," Caleb and Camille leave in anger.

Some time later, Annie and Baxter receive a call from the police to tell them their parents' car has been found abandoned. There appears to be signs of a struggle and there are blood stains in the car. They believe something terrible has happened to Caleb and Camille, but Annie thinks it just another prank. When she and Baxter disagree about what happened.

Based on Kevin Wilson's bestselling novel.

Indignation

In 1951, Marcus Messner (Logan Lerman) a brilliant student from Newark, New Jersey, escapes being drafted into the Korean War when he receives a college scholarship. Not usually one to socialize or engage with girls, he develops a burgeoning infatuation with a beautiful classmate named Olivia Hutton (Sarah Gadon). However, it puts his future, and the plans his family has for him, in serious jeopardy.

The college's imposing Dean Hawes Caudwell (Tracy Letts) intervenes and Olivia's past struggles with mental health are revealed. But after a terrible accident transpires, Marcus may be in over his head.

The film is based on the 2008 Philip Roth novel of the same name.

Sausage Party

A sausage named Frank (Seth Rogen) leads a group of supermarket products, including his hotdog bun girlfriend (Kristen Wiig) and fellow sausages Barry (Michael Cera) and Carl (Jonah Hill), to the promised land: home with a human.

However, they soon discover that all is not right in the world outside of the grocery store. Rather than co-existing in harmony with humans, they're being slaughtered and eaten by them! Now Frank and his friends must warn their edible comrades of these unspoken injustices and fight against the eventual genocide of foodkind as they know it.

Snowtime!

To amuse themselves during the winter school break, the kids in a small village decide to have a massive snowball fight. Luke and Sophie, both 11 years old, become the leaders of the opposing sides. But what starts out as pure youthful fun and enthusiasm deteriorates into a more serious conflict. Joy is restored when all the children decide to attack the fort rather than each other and happily destroy every last bit of the snow fort.

Finding Dory

One year after her journey with Nemo, Dory (voice of Ellen DeGeneres) is curious about her past. Unfortunately for her, her memory doesn't offer much help. But with Nemo and Marlin (voice of Albert Brooks) by her side, she embarks on a journey to uncover her roots. Who are her parents? Where did she learn to speak Whale?

Eventually, and after encountering their fair share of wild experiences, the trio manages to reunite Dory with her family. Their epic adventure teaches them more about the meaning of friendship and how truly important family is.

War Dogs

David Packouz (Miles Teller) is struggling to make a living as a massage therapist when he runs into his old friend, Efraim Diveroli (Jonah Hill). Tired of his therapist job, David tries selling linen to retirement homes, but winds up losing thousands of dollars. So when Efraim asks David to join his company in selling arms to the U.S. government, he agrees.

Unfortunately, they discover the task ahead of them is much more difficult than they'd anticipated. Although their first deal makes them a lot of money, in order to pull off another deal, the two become involved in shady dealings when the packaging on ammunition they purchased turns out to be illegal. They come up with a plan to save the deal, but soon find themselves in hot water with the United States government.

Kubo And The Two Strings (Rental Ready)

In a mythical, ancient Japan, kindhearted Kubo (Art Parkinson) finds himself on the run from gods and monsters, igniting an age-old vendetta. His only chance for survival rests on finding the magical suit of armor once worn by his fallen father, the greatest samurai the world has ever known.

With Monkey (Charlize Theron) by his side, as well as his father's former student Beetle (Matthew McConaughey), Kubo confronts his family's past and fights the evil forces that seek to destroy his people.

Kubo and the Two Strings was made using a 3D stop-motion hybrid.

Game Of Thrones: Season 6

Favorite characters such as Daenerys (Emilia Clarke), Cersei (Lena Headey), Jaime (Nikolaj Coster-Waldau), Tyrion (Peter Dinklage), Sansa (Sophie Turner), Arya (Maisie Williams), Littlefinger (Aidan Gillen), Theon (Alfie Allen), Margaery (Natalie Dormer), Bran (Isaac Hempstead Wright), Hodor (Kristian Nairn) and Sam (John Bradley-West) return for Season 6.
